Dear Mike:

We've been in our new building for about 4 years now! It hardly seems possible. The building is working out great. As you know, we use the building for our contemporary worship service, as a Sunday school classroom, as a fellowship hall where we hold dinners, dinner theatre events and concerts. It's great to have a facility large enough for weddings and wedding receptions. Many of our exercise conscious members meet there on a weekly basis for various exercise programs and the building is used for countless youth activities.

The building is not only meeting the needs of our church family, but it has also enabled us to reach out more effectively into the community. Apart from the school, we have the largest building in town. Working cooperatively with the local funeral director, our building has comfortably accommodated many funerals too large for the funeral home. Our ladies have served dozens of "after funeral" meals to grieving families. We had a huge community turn out for a service that we held to honor and pray for our troops during the recent war with Iraq. These kinds of activities help us to share the love of Christ with our community.

Good things have happened within our congregation as well since the building was built. In all honesty, we can't give the credit to the building, but we do believe that God is using the building for His purposes. Attendance has increased significantly as has our weekly offering. The increase in our offering is a reflection of the spiritual growth that is taking place among our number. God is using the building to His glory.

The 300 interlocking padded chairs that you suggested we purchase have worked out very well also. We simply arrange them in pew fashion for worship or around tables for fellowship meals. It's amazing how quickly a dozen people can transition the building from one arrangement to the other.

Mike, you and your team did a great job with the project. We received a lot of building for our money. It looks good and it is very versatile and functional. And, we can't say enough good things about Steve Weber's ability to handle to day-to day responsibilities during construction. He definitely made the project his own. Thank you very much for helping us better serve the Lord. Please feel free to share this letter with other churches and organizations who are considering using your company for their building project. You are also welcome to show our building to others at any time. Just give us a call.

Sincerely,
